Frank:

My thanks for another enjoyable evening with the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. As usual the meal was superb and the friendship warm and genuine. That was my first exposure to George Plimpton and I must say he does have a touch of the Irish wit about him. It was good also to see old friends who unfortunately we don't come across except at events like Saturday night.

Wish you continued good luck and thanks again.

Sincerely,

John N. McMahon

Dear Mr. McMahon:

On Saturday evening, March 17, 1984, the Society of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick will hold its 56th Annual Dinner. I am pleased to invite you to join us for this very special occasion.

This black-tie event will be highlighted by an evening of selected Irish entertainment with a promised minimum of lengthy oratory.

The Friendly Sons' dinner will be held at the Capital Hilton Hotel, 16th and K Streets, NW, at 7:30 p.m. Prior to dinner, I am hosting a private cocktail and buffet reception at 6:30 p.m. in the Pan American room of the hotel. The reception will also be open following dinner.

I hope that your schedule will permit you to join us.

Sincerely,
